21. General architectural description:
Oriented to the north, this house rests on a green-painted, rock-faced, random-coursed rhyolite ashlar foundation, with raised and beaded mortar. Narrow, green-painted wood siding, with cornerboards, clads the exterior walls. Square-cut wood shingles of the same color cover the gables and porch kneewall. Windows are generally 1-over-1-light, double-hung sash, with white-painted wood frames and surrounds. The window opening in the eastern half of the asymmetrical front (north) facade has a narrow upper sash, with cottage-style glazing. The opposite end of the facade hosts a hopper or awning window, also with cottage-style glazing. A shed-roofed addition across the rear (south) elevation has 1-over-1-light windows, with brown, aluminum frames. A hipped-roof porch spans most of the facade. It has a concrete floor and wood, white-painted Doric columns. Wood steps approach the porch west of center, corresponding to the principal door, which hosts a green-painted, 4-panel, 1-light wood door, with transom. Above the steps is a pediment. A secondary doorway opens near the south end of the east elevation. It hosts a plate-glass sliding door. This doorway provides access to an unsheltered patio. Brown-interlocking asphalt shingles cover the centrally hipped main roof and all other roof surfaces. The north end of the roof ridge hosts a small gable on hip. Green-painted wood soffit and fascia, with projecting cornice, box the eaves. Beneath the soffit is a wide frieze band. A red-brick chimney, with corbelled cap, protrudes from the south end of the roof ridge.

23. Landscape or special setting features:
This property is located on terrain sloping downward from west to east, with an elevation of around 4,700 feet above mean sea level. The surrounding residential neighborhood features modest and large, 1- and 2-story houses. Setbacks from West 20th Street are generally the same. This property is situated on the south side of the street, between 1929 North Main Street to the east and a north-south-oriented alley to the west. Separating the street from the concrete sidewalk is a grass-covered strip. A planted-grass yard, with mature landscaping, covers the lot. A wood privacy fence encloses the back yard and delimits the western boundary of property.

24. Associated building, features or objects:

GARAGE

A single-car garage is located at the southeast corner of the property. Oriented to the west, it rests on a concrete slab. Brown-painted sheets of plywood or particleboard clad the exterior walls. Dominating the front (west) elevation, offset north of center is a brown-painted, steel, overhead-retractable garage door, with two lights. There is also a glass-in-wood frame door opening just west of center in the north elevation. Windows pierce the north and south elevations; these windows are 1-beside-1-light, sliding-sash, with aluminum frames. Brown asphalt shingles cover the front-gabled roof, and the eaves are boxed.

SHED

A prefabricated metal shed is located just south of the garage. Oriented to the north, the building lacks a formal foundation. The walls consist of white-painted sheets of aluminum. Brown-painted aluminum sliding doors open in the center of the front (north) elevation. White-painted sheets of aluminum covers the front-gambrel roof.

29. Construction history:

According to Pueblo County tax assessor records, this house was constructed in 1911. An analysis of the materials, style, and historical records corroborates this date. Sanborn maps suggest that the rear addition was not completed until after 1952, but the building materials suggest that it was constructed before 1970.

35. Historical background:

The original owner or resident of this house, constructed in 1911, is unclear. However, around 1914, the owner was Frank D. Slutz. He was born around 1883 and his wife, Katherine, was born around 1880; both were natives of Ohio. They were married circa 1908 and had one child, Leland, when they moved to this address. Two more children, Donald and Louise, followed. Frank Slutz was a teacher at Cañon City High School prior to moving to Pueblo. Once relocated to this city, Slutz served as support for the District No. 1 Board of Education in Pueblo. The family moved back to Ohio prior to 1919, where Frank remained in the education profession.

Arthur D. and Helen D. Marvin purchased the house and lot around 1919. Arthur Marvin was born in Kansas around 1888, and Helen was born in Colorado around the same year. The couple married circa 1913 and moved to Pueblo at about the same time. They apparently had no children. The Marvins were the proprietors of Artistic Monuments, a cemetery memorial company, located at 518 North Main Street. The couple later moved to 2019 North Greenwood Street. Arthur Marvin died on February 2, 1967.

By 1935, Carl W. and Ruth B. Peterson resided here. Both Carl and Ruth were born in Kansas; Carl around 1906 and Ruth circa 1908. They had been married about five years prior to moving to this address, and did not have any children. Carl worked as the office manager for the Fox-Vliet Drug Store.

Dr. Jesse W. White purchased the property prior to 1940. Dr. White was born on February 2, 1900, in Wheeling, Missouri, and moved to Pueblo in 1926 to practice medicine. He lived in this house with his wife, Olivene S. White. The couple had two children: Nancy and Richard. The Whites moved to 509 West 16th Street sometime after 1940. Dr. White died on October 18, 1974.

The resident of the house beginning around 1950 was Mrs. Martha M. White, widow of J. Alfred White. (There does not appear to have been any relationship between this tenant and the previous homeowner.) Martha lived here through 1960.

Lawrence F. and Phyllis P. Hughes purchased the property and resided here prior to 1965. At the time he lived at this address, Lawrence was a real estate agent for the Haver-Leach Company. Lawrence Hughes died on June 13, 1987, leaving Phyllis as the sole property owner. She died on May 15, 2005.

After the death of Phyllis Hughes, Elizabeth A. Webster purchased the property. Trademark Properties, LLC, acquired the house as lots from Webster in June 2007, and sold them to current owners, Sara R. Bartlemay and Michael J. Hartkop, in July 2007.

39. Areas of significance: Social History

40. Period(s) of Significance: 1911-ca. 1950

41. Level of Significance: National State Local

42. Statement of Significance:

This property is historically significant for its association with the twentieth-century development of Pueblo's North Side Neighborhood, when the city's professional and entrepreneurial class moved northward to construct modest and large homes in the latest contemporary suburban styles. This house was home to educator Frank D. Slutz, entrepreneur Arthur Marvin, office manager Carl W. Peterson, and physician Dr. Jesse W. White. However, the levels of architectural and historical significance, combined with physical integrity, are not to the extent that this property could qualify for individual listing in the National Register of Historic Places, the Colorado State Register of Historic Properties, or as a City of Pueblo Landmark. It is, in any case, a contributing resource within a potential historic district.

43. Assessment of historic physical integrity related to significance:

Constructed in 1911, this house exhibits a moderate level of physical integrity relative to the seven aspects of integrity as defined by the National Park Service and the Colorado Historical Society: location, setting, design, materials, workmanship, feeling, and association. The only notable alteration has been the construction of small addition to the rear elevation. Overall, however, the building retains its form and most other character-defining features. This building retains sufficient physical integrity to convey its historical and architectural significance.

45. Is there National Register district potential: Yes No

Discuss: Pueblo's North Side Neighborhood represents the evolution of the city's professional middle and upper classes. Its diversity of architectural styles and forms directly represents the city's changing economic and cultural climates. As well, the neighborhood is distinctive because it appears to have evolved independently of the area's dominant industry, steel manufacturing.

If there is National Register district potential, is this building contributing: Yes No N/A

46. If the building is in existing National Register district, is it contributing: Yes No N/A
